

About Red Star

Red Star and the Red Star family of companies have supported film, television, and commercial productions in the US for more than 50 years.

Over the last decade, Red Star has acquired brands including Cinequipt, Charmcine, Liberty Camera, The Washington Source for Lighting, Capital Camera, Videosmith, and others. Red Star now has locations in seven cities, more than 45,000 sq ft of studio space, and millions of dollars in rental equipment in lighting, grip, electric, cameras, lenses, and production support categories.

Equipment rental is more than just stuff. It's having the right stuff at the right time, ready to go, from someone who knows and understands it. We know that real magic starts behind the scenes, long before anyone hits that big red button.

The Red Star Team

Red Star is more than 40 employees working in seven different offices across the Midwest and Mid-Atlantic.

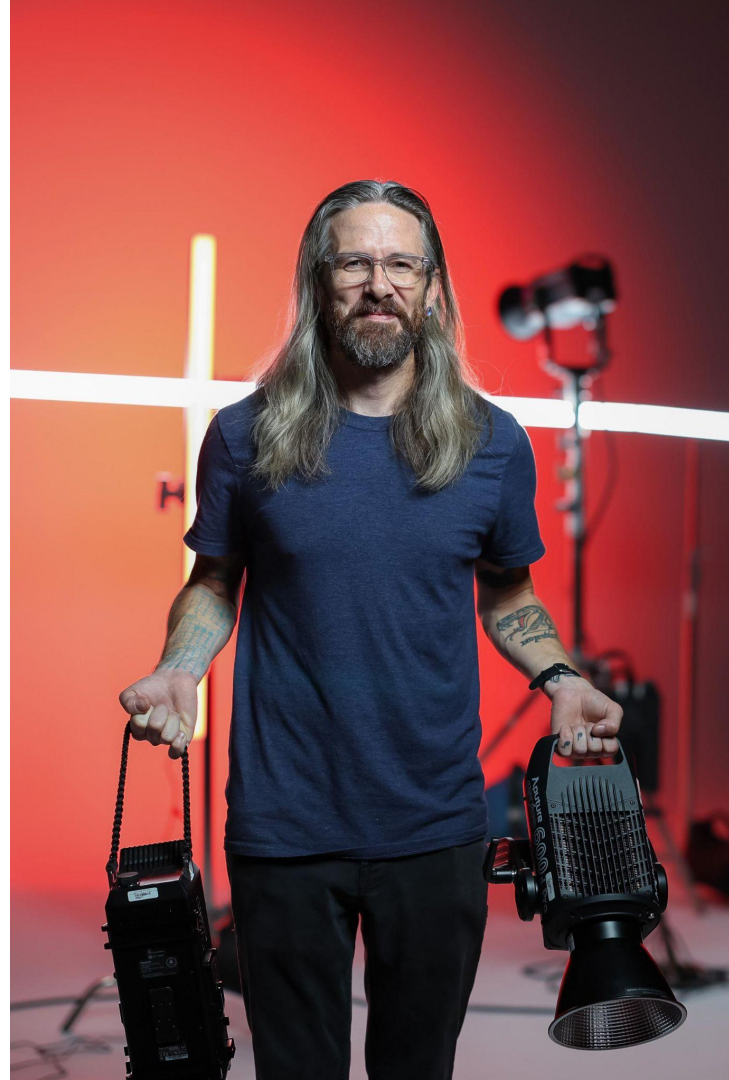

We are your experts in equipment and professionals of production. We employ specialists in all areas of production, including cinema cameras, lighting and grip, electrical, and production support.

Our Gear. Your Vision.

Our huge rental and expendable catalog includes equipment from every major brand, available for sales or rentals.
